Good morning!

Well, it's wonderful that you have a school trip in Russia! Congratulations!

I think, I can recommend some museums for you. At first you can visit Tretyakov Gallery. (Address: Lavryshinsky in 101. It's a beautiful museum with wonderful ⁴⁰arts by talented and famous Russian artists. If you and your classmates are fans of cosmos, then you can visit the Museum of Cosmonautics! It's on Mira Ave, ³⁰111. And I told you about Tretyakov Gallery and it isn't ¹⁰enough for you, then you can visit New Tretyakov Gallery. It's on Krimsky Val, 10. In New Tretyakov Gallery you'll see more modern/contemporary arts from modern artist.

You also can find other museums in Internet. In Moscow there are many of them. Try to discuss it with your classmates.

Have a nice trip!

I understand it like if man know ~~many~~ many of languages it means that he have time to ~~st~~ learn a helpful info which can help him in life

For my opinion these words is not fully ~~right~~ true. I think if someone ^{Gr or Sp} don't know ~~the~~ languages except of his born-land language he just don't need it. For 60% of those, who ~~ca~~ know little more than bas level of english lang, it will be need only for school rates and ~~some times~~ in internet talking. I think they know language as good as they need. So if you know languages you just a niceman, not more.

I don't know examples from literature or history, but on example of me; I can talk with my voice one english with ~~A~~ American, ~~but~~ not very good, but ~~th~~ they understand me as I they. Stil I think I need to impress my english for better talking experience, as those who think in it every thing they need.

I understand the statement "You are as many times a man as many languages you know". Language is necessary for the transmission of information, and as we know that the one who owns the information owns everything. ³⁶

I agree with this statement because knowing many languages, it is possible to convey information to different peoples. ^{Gr}

Knowledge of foreign languages makes it possible to experience life more fully, to join the history and tradition of other inhabitants of the planet.

~~I believe that~~

In different situations, you feel like a different person: German, Italian, Frenchman or Ukrainian.

I believe that knowledge of foreign languages enriches the spiritual ^{lex} words of a person, expands his horizons and increases the cultural level.

Knowledge of languages develops a person. For example, knowledge of some language can help ~~to~~ you in other areas. You may know some interesting word in foreign language and it ~~is~~ will help you with something.

Well, I think knowing several foreign languages is so cool! Languages can help in the future. Personally,

I like study foreign ^{languages, like} English, Japanese, and Chinese.

And I think these languages ~~is~~ very useful. I can give example to illustrate my reasons. 100 years ago french was better than English for daily life. The most famous work "War and peace" by Leo Tolstoy include so many sentences in French. So, people who know this language can read this work in original.

Therefore, the ability to speak foreign languages is very helpful in life. They develop our thinking.

"You are as many times a man as many languages you know". I think the meaning behind this statement is in the idea that, the more languages you know the better you are at understanding different people and world, therefore the better you are as a man.

42 34 In my opinion those who can understand different languages can see, perceive and learn from the exceedingly large and various sources of knowledge. My reasons come from the old, yet brilliant idea, that one can be called a "man" only if he tries to know more about the world he lives in, to know more about himself and most importantly tries to become better. There are a lot of examples throughout history, such as Lomonosov one of the greatest Russian scientist and writer, he could speak in French, Russian and other languages which helped him to get well known not only in Russia but also in Europe where his innovations became foundations for other scholars of that time.

In conclusion I want to say that, to become a better person one needs to be able to get the full scenery of the world and often needs the point of view of other people and because of that the more you know of other languages the more you are of a man. 43

30. Every people in the world have or at least one language in their use. That gives an opportunity to communicate with others and get access to great culture of your language.

My personal opinion is that "you are as many times as many languages you know". There are at least two good ~~of~~ advantages of learning other language. Firstly, you can speak with new group of interesting people, get new acquaintances and gain knowledge in new sphere. Secondly, you can get access to new culture and material that can help in the future. For example, there is no book of programming in Russian, but you can find it in English.

One interesting example from literature is "Kino's adventure". This is story about boy, that travelled from town to town. ~~and~~ He met a lot of interesting people and learned many languages, that helped him in adventure.

In conclusion, everyone choose by themselves whether learning a new language or not. However, you can get great benefits from hard-learning.

Writing

25/10/25

There is a huge variety of languages on our planet. Each has own rules, features and so on, hence almost every language is unique and beautiful in own way, so, ~~it makes pretty hard to study them, and therefore~~ ^{But} not every person is capable of knowing many languages. However, actually this is the essence of human mind - aspiring to learn to something new and that's why one should learn new languages to be more like a man.

Personally, I agree with this statement, but also I partly disagree at once. ~~Firstly~~, yes, people should know a lot of to develop their mind and studying languages is quite a suitable way to become smarter. ~~Secondly, this is in my opinion people should always find out something new.~~ But I also disagree with this because there are a lot of other ways to become a man, for example one can be a scientist, engineer, or inventor - all of these professions are useful for society, ~~and such people are actually able to help to all the mankind. I think that people can not imagine living without electricity, cars and so on. All these inventions were open by truly men, even despite the amount of languages they know.~~

An example from literature - a famous writer Lev Tolstoy also knew some languages and became a world-widely known person. People remember and respect him because of his humanism.

To sum up, I'd say that knowing languages shows the "level" of being man, but that's not the only which makes a man.
