Many people want to be fit or increase their fitness. But is it really necessary to be active or follow a healthy diet to be fit? Let's talk about it.

Firstly it's good to be active. It makes you stronger and more energetic. In addition your stamina will increase and you'll have more abilities to do. Lastly, you can do sport together. I mean... people who also interested in this thing.

^{In contrast to} ~~On the other hand~~ being inactive. If you'll be inactive it will not be good for your health. You won't be strong enough. And you may get weaker. Furthermore, your figure can become fatter, which can lead you to depressed condition or something like that.

But it's also necessary to follow healthy diet. You won't increase your fitness, doing sport, but eating chips, burgers or another chunky food.

I was playing computer games since my childhood. It is my favourite hobby. I love the game "Subway Surfers". It is really interesting game. Every month the game has a new adventure and story. In this game you have to jump on trains and run away of policeman. Usually it is really hard to do. Pictures change very fast and you can't late to press a button. Every second you can die. Angry policeman has a big dog. The dog can bite your leg.

I can recommend this game my friends, because it is interesting. When you play this game you become more attentive, faster, Hello!

How are you? I heard you are going to increase your fitness. I can help you with that. I'd recommend you running or jogging every morning.

It's important to be active. If you are active, you are healthy. Our health is very important. Unfortunately, there are some disadvantages of being active: for example, it could be really hard to start some sport activity. Also, you will need to eat healthy food to become fit. It's necessary to follow healthy diet, cause the amount of calories you consume is important in fitness. ~~And~~ And in general, of course. You can also try to join some fitness or sports clubs.

So, in a conclusion I will say that if you want to get fit you must do some sport activities like running and you must eat healthy food.

Good luck!

Hey, I'm glad to see you worrying about your health, so I will give you some advises on how to be fit.

About active lifestyle: if you are active, then you are less likely to have obesity and weak muscles, and most likely you will look better than if you were inactive, you will be more happy overall. Inactivity will bring you only diseases like obesity, high blood pressure, high blood sugar, different kinds of heart diseases and you will look very messy.

To be fit you have to follow a healthy diet including fresh vegetables, fresh fruits, products that are high in protein, and you have to exclude junk food, processed food and deep fried things.

116

Most important in being fit is ^{that} you have to exercise yourself: going to gym, join some sport clubs, and exercise with people who want to be fit too. With exercises you will build muscle and burn fat.

153

As a conclusion, to be fit, you should follow a healthy diet and do physical exercises.
